FOREWORD

In carrying out the theme of the 1953 RED AND GREEN, "The Circus," we have not tried to stress the lighter side of the subject, but rather to portray the conglomerate makeup of a school as large as ours.

Today as never before we need to realize that if we are to have peace in the world we must mold its widely contrasting parts into one unified whole without sacrificing individuality. Our high school is a shining example of this "unity in multeity" which seems so elusive in the war-torn world of today.

Thus in our various divisions, ranging from the administration and faculty, the seniors and underclassmen, through the extracurricular activities which are so much a part of every student's school career, we have tried to give you a glimpse of the heterogeneous elements which make up life at J. H. S.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

When our class of '53 entered JHS in the fall of 1950, our hopes and expectations were high. We chose the following leaders to begin our first year:

President ..... ANDREW TANGALOS
Vice President ..... DENNIS JOHNSON
Secretary ..... IRENE KAMINSKI
Treasurer ..... HAROLD KINDBERG
Keeper of Properties.....RUSSELL GUIFFREDA
Historian ..... NANCY LOU ANDERSON

One of the great events of our sophomore year was the reception on November 8, when our parents had the opportunity to meet our teachers.

The white carnation was selected as our class flower with royal blue and white as our colors. "Success is the product of character and determination", was chosen as our motto to inspire us through our three years at JHS.

Our second year began with twice as much anticipation, as we thought of the many things we could accomplish as juniors. The first step was the election of our officers as follows:

President ..... RUSSELL GUIFFREDA
Vice President ..... ALPINE JOHNSON
Secretary ..... THOMAS ADAMS
Treasurer ..... MAJ LIS EASTMAN
Keeper of Properties ..... JERRY MOYNIHAN

The most memorable event of our junior year was the great play "Cheaper by the Dozen", presented on December 1, 1951. Ruth Anderson and Robert Rude were chosen to attend Girls State and Boys State. The traditional Junior-Senior Reception was given for the seniors. It included a floor show and a grand march.

Our senior year has been the highlight of all our years at JHS. It has been the happiest year but also the saddest, because soon we will be leaving the halls of Jamestown High. Mary Lou Rigoli was selected by the senior girls and teachers to qualify in the essay contest, sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

"Down to Earth", the play chosen by the seniors, was presented on March 7, 1953. It was done very effectively and it was a big success with everyone present.

We looked forward with much excitement to the Charles E. Hall Debate and the many graduation exercises including class night, the prom, the banquet, baccalaureate, and commencement.

The officers that were elected in our senior year are as follows:

President ..... ANDREW TANGALOS
Vice President ..... ROBERT RUDE
Secretary ..... ANN KEYES
Treasurer ..... DONNA MARTIN
Keeper of Properties ..... JANICE HOOPER

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

Upon entering the halls of Jamestown High last September, we juniors found the surroundings more familiar and friendly. This marked the beginning of a successful year.

The new year meant new officers and the class selected the following cabinet:

President ..... RONALD STROTH
Vice-President ..... FRANCIS REMINGTON
Secretary ..... MARTHA BLOOMSTRAND
Treasurer ..... RICHARD MAHER
Keeper of Properties ..... JAMES McCUSKER
Historian ..... THOMAS MICHOS

With one of the sideshows proving successful, the class moved on to another one —that of collecting class dues. Full attendance was recorded with everyone contributing. We then moved on to the Big Tent where one of the main events was the Junior Class Play "Annie Get Your Gun". On December 6, under the able supervision of Miss Myrtle Paetznick, "Annie Get Your Gun" was presented and proved to be a tremendous hit. Ronald Bumbalo and Rosemary Leet shared the leading roles and were supported by a marvelous cast of forty-one junior classmates.

Other outstanding events under the Big Top included the Junior Class assembly in April, the moving-up assembly in June, and also the Junior-Senior Reception in June. The measurement of class rings was an exciting occurrence, for it meant that we didn't have long to go before we should be in the spotlight as seniors.

We juniors eagerly awaited the Charles E. Hall Debate and we knew that a good team had been chosen when we found that Ronald Stroth, James Roman and Daniel Hofgren were to represent our class.

The class of '54 wants to express its deepest gratitude and appreciation to Mrs. Murphy for her splendid guidance which helped make this year a marvelous one.

Thomas Michos, Historian.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

In September, 1952, 493 students from Jefferson, Washington, and Lincoln Junior High Schools combined to form the Class of 1955.

Under the leadership of Mr. Richard Ramsauer, their class adviser, they picked the following students as officers:

President ..... JAMES HAGBERG
Vice-President ..... JANE MOHR
Secretary ..... EDWARD STEELE
Treasurer ..... BARBARA LUNDGREN
Historian ..... KAREN THAYER
Keeper of Properties ..... KAREN THAYER

They also chose the American Beauty Rose as their flower, "Step by step, one goes far" as their motto, and red and white as their class colors.

The first event of the school year was the Sophomore Reception, held in November. This gave the students and their parents an opportunity to become better acquainted with the high school and its faculty.

In April, the class play "The Tower Room Mystery" was presented under the leadership of Miss Myrtle Paetznick assisted by student directors Cynthia Chiapetta and Gary Phillips. It proved to be a success both financially and artistically.

The Sophomore Party was given in May. This was the first real social event the class enjoyed.

The sophomore year has been wonderful, and we are looking forward to two more, equally successful.

Karen Thayer, Historian.

YEARBOOK IS UNDER THE SPOTLIGHT

"The write-ups are due on February 27." This statement from Mrs. Paulson sent members of the Red and Green Editorial Staff scurrying out to obtain information on the many activities of the school during the past year. Work on the year book starts early in the year so that a complete, neat year book can be presented. Advisers and Editor-in-chief, Dan Lindblom, have been hard at work during the entire year organizing people and material. Each year the annual seems to become more and more polished and professional.

It is proudly stated that the 1952 yearbook won a coveted award. At the 18th annual Yearbook critique and contest in New York on October 10, 1952, The Columbia Scholastic Press Association presented the Red and Green with a first place certificate. Another award was received from the Western New York Interscholastic Press Association, in which we were rated as Class A.

The Business Staff of the Red and Green, with Miss Agostine as Adviser and James Scudder as Business Manager, operated this year for the second time without income from advertising. The selling price of the year book has been kept down as much as possible to enable the greatest possible number of students to purchase a book. The time-payment plan promoted last year was discarded because of the extra effort and complication involved.

All in all, the performance by the members of the various staffs of Red and Green has been such that they can all be proud of their achievements.

J-QUILL MIRRORS J H S LIFE

The circus is not the only place where a lot of behind-the-scenes work has to go into makeup of the finished product. Every time the J-Quill went to press, which was six times this year, many hours of work had to be put in by staff members, who were constantly gathering news, typing, rewriting, laying out and proofreading the paper.

One of J-Quill's features this year was a series of articles on JHS twins. The paper also had a slightly new look because of a new printer. The price of J-Quill remained the same as in previous years despite rising production costs.

A major year-end event for the J-Quill staff was the annual publications banquet held with the Red and Green staffs. Here the budding journalists enjoyed a good meal and a speaker.

J-Quill's faculty adviser is Mrs. Florence O. Zanghi. The rest of the staff includes:

HONOR SOCIETY HAS PARADE OF EVENTS

Students outstanding in character, scholarship, service, and leadership, the four cornerstones of National Honor Society, were tapped for membership into the Kappa Alpha Tau Chapter in early November and again in March. Juniors, as well as Seniors, were admitted in March. The society was under the supervision of faculty adviser Miss Hattie Boak.

Honor Society members were a familiar sight at the basketball games during the year where they maintained a concession stand. The profits from the concession stands have been accumulating since 1949 and this year Honor Society was prepared to award its first scholarship to a student applying for and being found worthy of this scholarship.

Acting as assistant air raid wardens in cooperation with Mr. Williams for the practice air raid drills was another activity.

Every year Honor Society presents a pin and a certificate to the most outstanding student in each of the Junior High Schools.

On the social side of school activities, the members sponsored "The Turkey Trot"—a square dance in November, a rummage sale, and another square dance in April.

MI-Y GETS ON THE BANDWAGON

Memories of good times and fellowship with their Mi-Y sisters will be remembered by many J.H.S. girls for a long time after graduation. This year Miss Beth Knerr led the girls on Mi-Y's bandwagon.

This past year Mi-Y has staged many annual events. Among these events were several bake sales, "The Hanging of the Greens" at Christmas, the collecting of "Chocolates for Christmas" to send overseas, a Halloween party, and a St. Valentine's party.

Besides plays, picnics, basketball games, movies, a hayride, and a hair styling session within the organization, Mi-Y and Hi-Y challenged each other in a basketball game.

On the more serious side of events the girls visited four churches of different denominations in their Lenten study of religions, and together with Hi-Y held a breakfast on Palm Sunday.

The girls were privileged to hear such guests as Lois O'Polka, who told about her experiences in Scotland as a youth ambassador; Miss Sally Thomas, a Lincoln Junior High School teacher, who talked with us on our "Personality Plus"; and Mrs. Clyde Carnahan.

Officers for the past year were:

President ..... JOANNE JOHNSON
Vice-President ..... AUDREY REIN
Secretary ..... SYLVIA THOMPSON
Treasurer ..... BARBARA BARILE
Chaplain ..... CLAIRE CARLSON
Corresponding Secretary ..... ANNETTE LEBERG

HI-Y RANKS AMONG STAR PERFORMERS

Right in the main ring during the school year 1952-53 was Hi-Y. Last fall, this group reappeared in the spotlight and began the year with a dance after each of the four home contests on the gridiron. These dances have enabled Hi-Y to carry out various activities and projects. Hi-Y'ers have taken part in some of these activities in the recent months: an assembly sponsored for JHS; the donation of Thanksgiving baskets to three Jamestown families; a Christmas party for underprivileged boys; aiding in Red Cross blood-donor program; and attendance at the Western New York Youth Conference at Olean, the Fredonia Area Legislature, the State Hi-Y Youth and Government Legislature at Albany, induction ceremonies of area clubs and the Chautauqua-Cattaraugus Officers' Training Camp at Camp Onyahsa.

A special project this year was the establishment of the Norman Nelson Hi-Y Award, in memory of the group's adviser who died two years ago. This award, given for the first time this year, will be made each year at Class Night to a senior class boy, whether he is a Hi-Y member or not, on the basis of most nearly having fulfilled the Hi-Y aims and ideals: "To Create, Maintain and Extend, Throughout the Home, School and Community, High Standards of Christian Character."

Last fall, two local Hi-Y representatives presented Jamestown's bill in the State Legislative buildings at Albany before the Hi-Y legislature. The bill, on the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power project, was passed by a vote of 87-14.

Any report of the 1952-53 Hi-Y Club would be incomplete without mention of the advisers of the group. Of course, there is "Uncle Art" Stearns, Boys Work Secretary of the YMCA, who has given graciously of his time to guide the organization to its success. A new adviser this year has been a tremendous help to Hi-Y also. He is Mr. Herbert Carlson, who has repeatedly shown his interest in various phases of JHS activities in the past.

Officers of this year's organization have served both semesters. They are:

President ..... DONALD O'POLKA
Vice-President ..... ROBERT RUDE
Secretary ..... PAUL NELSON
Treasurer ..... RONALD CARLSON
Chaplain ..... RONALD STROTH

PEEK INTO 309 SHOWS FRENCH CLUB BUSY

If in your wanderings along J.H.S. halls during any Wednesday seventh period this year, you happened to pass Room 309 and, startled by the strange noises coming from within, stopped to look in the window, this is what you saw and heard.

The "sounds" were a bit of French and the group of students was Le Cercle Francais, the organization par excellence for French language students at J.H.S. As for the person speaking, it could have been one of many. Maybe it was Marcia Nelson, President of the Club, or Miss Emma Barber, the Club's faculty adviser, discussing French Club's most important event—its big annual dinner held on April 29. They might have been reminding club members to brush up on their French before the dinner. This was one meal at which you had to ask for your food in French.

Perhaps Donna Darling, Chairman of French Club's dance, was reminding her fellow members not to forget to be there on Friday night, January 16, in the gym after the baskteball game. The speaker could have been the person who moved that the Cercle show some travel movies on France at a May meeting. Around Christmas, many members contributed ideas for French Club's Christmas party. If you heard Catharine Johnston, French Club's Secretary this year, or Jane Hoover, the Club's Treasurer, giving their reports (in French, of course), you no doubt noticed too that the reports were followed by a chorus of, "What?"

French Club was not all play though. At Christmas time, Caroline Jones, French Club's Vice-president, might have been seen among those discussing a box of food, clothing and toys, which was sent to a French orphanage. In March, someone might have been heard asking for the magazines and books which the American Library in Paris was to receive.

No matter when you peeked in on French Club, you found something going on and usually someone speaking. Although it was not always in French, it was always apropos Le Cercle Francais.

SPANISH CLUB ENJOYS PINATA PARTY

"Habla Vd. espanol?" If you do, you are probably one of the many members of Spanish Club. This club makes it possible for Spanish language classes to learn more about Spanish customs through songs, dances and skits.

REC IN TENTH YEAR

Under the able guidance and leadership of the Executive committee, the Rec entered its tenth year of existence. Mr. Thayer Pratt, the faculty adviser, gave his assistance to Janice Leathers, the student chairman in directing the Rec.

During the fall semester of 1943, Mrs. Florence Zanghi helped a group of high school students organize the Rec. Each fall the four graduated seniors are replaced by four sophomores who have been selected by the committee.

The Rec has cooperated very well with other groups in the school and outside of school in presenting dances during the year. Its aim is to sponsor dances which everyone is able to attend at a minimum of cost.

After some of the games during basketball and football seasons, the Rec sponsored dances, the music sometimes supplied by a band and sometimes by that keepsake, the old but very reliable juke box.

In June the Rec, as in years gone by, helped to sponsor the Senior Prom. This is the biggest event of the year and the Rec always enjoys helping the senior class. The members of the Rec sincerely hope that, as in former years, the cry, "See you Friday night at the Rec" will ring through the corridors of JHS indicating the popularity of this organization.

THROUGH THE "KEY" HOLE

If you should happen to pass Room 315 some Thursday morning before school you would see twenty-five eager young Key-Clubbers discussing some project to serve their school. This junior edition of the Kiwanis Club has had a very successful year under their new adviser, Mr. Keeler. Among the Key Club's projects for the year have been keeping the Trophy Cases clean and in good order, sponsoring the annual Student-Faculty game, and the presentation of a plaque to the school for recording the winners of the Student-Faculty games. Members have served as Junior Air Raid Wardens and Parking Lot Supervisors.

The outstanding event of the year was the State Key Club Convention at Syracuse, April 18 and 19. The boys who attended the Convention had an enjoyable time and gained much experience in government and planning club projects. The Jamestown Kiwanis Club has been a very helpful parent club this year. Each week two Key Club members are chosen to attend the regular weekly Kiwanis luncheon meeting as guests of the club. This year, as an innovation, the Key Club took over a Kiwanis Club meeting. The Key Club conducted the meeting and presented the program. This was in the form of a panel discussion on the Chautauqua Lake problem.

As the Key Club gains the experience of years, it is becoming a better and better service club. Although it is a comparatively young club, it has gained much prestige and is of genuine service to our school.

A new troupe joined the Jamestown High School Circus last year. The Merton P. Corwin Club, Future Teachers of America, is just what the name signifies, an organization of high school students who some day hope to be teachers in their chosen fields.

The monthly meetings, usually starting with a tureen supper, have included varied and interesting programs. One of the popular activities of the Club is the teacherette program, in which members visit an elementary school classroom one afternoon each week to observe and assist the teacher.

SALS FURTHER INTERNATIONAL UNDERSTANDING

SALS, an organization first made up of girls who worked in the school libraries of Jamestown, has this year extended its membership to all girls interested in books and libraries.

The girls held two bake sales during the year to raise money to send CARE book packages to needy schools in Europe. These book packages are actually messengers of good will between our organization and the youth of Europe, Asia, South America and Africa. The Children's Book Fund program is one method by which CARE-UNESCO is trying to bring about better understanding between peoples of different countries. The SALS were inspired by last year's response to their contributions which were sent to further this mutual understanding.

Meetings have been held every other Thursday, usually in one of the library reading rooms. After these meetings, the SALS help change bulletin board and other display material. At holiday times, we have combined business meetings with parties, for SALS is a social as well as a service organization. During January Regents Week, the regular meeting of the organization was highlighted by a talk by Miss Doris Kelley, a 1949 JHS graduate who was doing her library practice work at Geneseo State Teachers' College. She discussed informally with the girls college education and campus life.

In May, a "garden party" for different groups of the faculty and students was held in the library after school. The SALS provided refreshments and special book displays.

PINKIES BRING CHEER TO HOSPITAL

The pinkies, a group of future nurses which the high school sponsors at the Jamestown General Hospital, is this year celebrating its tenth birthday.

Toward the end of the day, the patients look forward to the coming of these girls in their pink uniforms. The pinkies bring cheer to the patients, giving them a little extra personal attention and something different to think about.

The girls in this group are chosen not only for their interest in nursing but also for satisfactory scholarship and desirable personality and character traits.

The pinkies take great pride in their work and it is one of the experiences they will remember longest about their high school days.

YORKER CLUB IS NEWEST AT JHS

The newest act in the eternal three-ring circus of JHS extra-curricular activities is Yorker Club, which was formed this year by sophomores who had been members of Yorker Chapters at all three junior high schools.

The Yorker Club is affiliated with the New York State Historical Association, and the members try to learn more about New York. One of the main activities for Yorker members is the State Convention, held at Binghamton this year.

As a service project, Yorkers helped index the old newspapers on microfilm at the James Prendergast Library, which added greatly to the value of the collection.

In the fall, Yorker Club drew up a Constitution and bought pins. Other autumn activities included a hayride, a bake sale and speakers.

More money raising projects were held in the spring to raise funds for the state convention and another local trip was taken in the spring. A nickel supper in the cafeteria was sponsored in February by Yorker Club.

Sebastian Ciancio, member of the JHS Yorker chapter, has had the honor of being State Yorker President. Miss Helen G. McMahon is the Yorker faculty adviser.

HYPATIANS ENJOY WELL-ROUNDED PROGRAMS

"What happened to Mr. Wilson's Pants?" That was the question on everybody's tongue at the Hypatian-Lyceum picnic at Allegheny in September when said pants managed to stray while Mr. Wilson was enjoying an icy swim.

Another event that Hypatian girls won't soon forget is the October hayride when everyone had such a "freezing good time." Hallowe'en, Christmas, and Valentine's Day parties, complete with food and entertainment, were held in the teachers' cafeteria.

But all is not play for this public-speaking group. Plenty of hard work was put forth in helping to make "Mr. Touchdown, U.S.A." a success. Hypatians' own money-making schemes included bake sales and a basketball dance.

Since practice in public speaking is the foremost aim of the club, the weekly programs consisted of extemporaneous speeches, debates, and speeches by well-known people about town.

As a grand climax to an eventful year, Hypatians combined efforts with Lyceum to sponsor the second annual "Royal Prom" in May, at which J.H.S.'s royal King and Queen were crowned.

LYCEUM SUPPORTS STUDENT FORUM

"I want to see as many of you as possible at the Student Forum next Wednesday." This is the order of the day by Mr. Robert C. Wilson, adviser of the J.H.S. Lyceum. Many members have supported the Student Forum and it has been a big success. The Student Forum is held once a month under the J.H.S. "big top". Its purpose is to allow the students to voice their views on subjects of current interest.

On October 5, Lyceum and Hypatians held a picnic at Allegheny State Park. After a day of football, softball, and swimming by some hardy souls, everyone enjoyed a picnic supper around a blazing fire. As the sun set, we started home much the wearier but very happy after a day pleasantly spent in the great outdoors.

Ruth Anderson was the winner of the Lyceum's annual "I Speak for Democracy" contest. Other activities in which the Lyceum took part were "Mr. Touchdown, U.S.A.", sponsoring a dance, and the securing of drivers and judges for debates. At present, the "public speakers" are eagerly looking forward to their annual banquet.

DEBATERS ENJOY SIX TOURNAMENTS

"A Federal Union of the NATO Nations is the best thing that the world could have."

"How can you say that when you know all the evils that it would cause?"

These topics furnish food for thought and for conversation in the debaters' heaven, better known as 205.

Mr. Robert C. Wilson continued his capable tutoring of the Jamestown High School Orators. Two contests "I speak for Democracy" and the American Legion Oratorical contest proved that point and also the point that debating builds good voices and oratorical ability.

Jamestown has a large gold cup to show for its first debate trip of the season to Hamilton college. A banner also decorates 205 as proof that the Jamestown High School orators carried away honors at the Oswego-Courtland tournament.

Four other contests completed the tournament trail for Jamestown High School. They were at Albany on March seventh and at Jeffersonville on March fourteenth. The state National Forensic League tournament on March 26 and 27 in the Hudson Valley found high school orators competing in debate, oratorical interpretation, original oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and humorous declamation. Mr. Wilson rewarded one senior team by permitting them to go to the Allegheny tournament. He felt that they had worked the hardest on debate during their three years at JHS.

Other debates were with Meadville, Aquinas, Canisius, Franklinville, Bradford, Oil City, and Erie Academy.

CHARLES E. HALL—DEBATE OF THE YEAR

The Charles E. Hall debate, one of Jamestown High School's oldest customs, again promises to be the debating highlight of the year. This event is held in honor of Charles E. Hall, a Jamestown High student who died during one of his most active debating years at the school. The contest pits three of the best speakers of the senior class against a similar trio from the junior class. The debaters are chosen by a group of the high school faculty members on a basis of five minute try out speeches on a current topic. Upholding the seniors this year will be Ruth Anderson, Andrew Tangalos and Charles Hamlin. They will be challenged by the Junior team of Ronald Stroth, Daniel Hofgren and James R. Roman. The debate topic for 1953 will be some phase of the Korean situation. The event is one of spirited but friendly competition between the senior and junior classes and is well attended by the student body. It appears that this year's debate will be no exception to the rule.

STUDENTS AIR VIEWS IN RADIO FORUM

The J. H. S. English Conference Room resounded this year with cries both pro and con on various issues of local, national, and international interest. For nine weeks of the 1952-1953 school year J. H. S. students gathered in Room 227 every Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 to discuss these important questions. The half-hour programs, sponsored by W. J. T. N., were recorded at the high school in the afternoon for re-broadcast that evening.

The discussions were carried on entirely by members of the J. H. S. student body on a completely voluntary basis. Serving as discussion moderators were such prominent local citizens as Henri Hall, George B. Pitts, Bill Joyce, and Gordon Taylor. Discussion topics of national and international interest included "Do We Want Socialized Medicine?" and "U. M. T.—Good or Bad?" Issues of particular local concern were "Advantages and Disadvantages of Living in Jamestown" and "Fraternities and Sororities in High School."

Many favorable comments about the programs have been received by all concerned. W. J. T. N. officials have expressed such satisfaction with the programs to the extent of considering them for further broadcasting or televising next year.

What a merry-go-round of events our A'Cappella has carried on this year!

Two trips to Buffalo have been a major part of the special activities during the year. The first was to appear before the Music Educators' Section of the Western Zone Conference, on Friday, October 24, and the second, to sing for the Eastern Division of the Music Educators' Section Zone Conference, on Saturday, February 28.

At Christmastime, when everyone else was busy with the usual Christmas shopping and trimming trees, our A'Cappella, under the able direction of Miss Ebba H. Goran-

In the spring, the A'Cappella turned its efforts toward the busy schedule of events. The annual spring concerts were presented April 15 and May 19, and A'Cappella also appeared at the music festivals in May.

ORCHESTRA PRESENTS TWO SPRING CONCERTS

The orchestra has had a very busy schedule this past year. The members took little time out to amuse themselves during the first half of the year. Instead, a great deal of perfecting and hard work was the order of the day.

During the second half of the year, however, they really put their musical ability to the test when they played for a number of the grade schools and junior high schools in Jamestown. One of the most enjoyable and inspiring performances that the orchestra took part in was the annual spring concert held April 15th. The orchestra, along with the A'Cappella choir and the choral club presented such ever-popular favorites as "Some Enchanted Evening," "Surrey With the Fringe On Top," and "Song of Freedom."

On May 19th, the second spring concert was given and that, too, was a big success. Also in May, they appeared at one of the spring music festivals.

With Carol Todd as drum majorette, the band displayed fine training as they entertained the fans during the halftime at all home games. The band also made trips to North Tonawanda and Warren to do their shows and help cheer the football team to victory.

After the football season, the band began earnest practice for its concert season. After many weeks it made its first public appearance at the March of Dimes Benefit Show on February 2, 1953. They played again on February 27, 1953 in their annual school assembly which followed the annual concert that was held on February 25, 1953. Again in the Spring Concert, on May 19, they displayed their talents. In their appearances, the band has proved that they can play many types of music with ease and proficiency. The audience has been pleased with everything from old-time favorite marches by John Philip Sousa, to modern popular music such as "Blue Tango" by Leroy Anderson. Some of the marches played by the band include "Semper Fidelis" and "Washington Post March" by John Philip Sousa and "Gloria" by F. H. Losey. They also played overtures and heavy music such as "Death and Transfiguration" by Richard Strauss, and "Scenes from the Sierras" by David Bennett. A few modern songs such as "Carnival Day in New Orleans" by John J. Morrissey were excellently rendered.

This year the band also took part in the graduation exercises and the Memorial Day parade May 30, 1953. The band officers this year were:

HIGH-STEPPING MAJORETTES LEAD BAND

High-stepping little gals—that's what our J.H.S. majorettes are as they lead our band with their peppy marching and baton twirling. Football games just wouldn't be football games without our brightly clad majorettes to entertain us at half-time with their sprightly antics. Their white satin costumes with a touch of red and blue add a dash of color and femininity to our marching band. All eyes (our rival team's are not exempt) are on them as they perform their dazzling routines.

These girls displayed their daring skill at one of our home games when they twirled flaming batons to the delight of all spectators.

At parade time, again in May and June we watched our six majorettes, as they strutted down the street with the J.H.S. band close at their heels. We're certain that everyone welcomed them back into the limelight after their winter vacation.

PLAYHOUSE PRESENTS FIVE PLAYS

Early in the fall, Pretenders organized their regular Monday meetings in Study Hall 144. With the help of Pretenders and Playhouse faculty adviser, Miss Myrtle Paetznick, the sophomores soon became a part of the JHS dramatic world. During the first term, programs in acting principles were presented at club meetings. The second term, however, really gave Playhouse members a chance to try their acting wings. The musical revue, "Mr. Touchdown, U.S.A." started the semester with a bang. This was the JHS stage debut for many sophomores who either sang in the chorus or contributed special musical talent in the show.

In February, March, and April four one-act plays were given by Playhouse members, under the direction of Junior Pretenders, for the entertainment of both groups. These comedies were "Room For Rent" directed by Cynthia Adamson, "Be Home By Midnight", directed by James Roman, "Elizabeth's Young Man", directed by Gale Fiorenzo, and "Tommy Come Home", directed by Catharine Johnston. Last but not least on May 2, 1953 in the JHS auditorium, Playhouse members presented the three-act play "The Tower Room Mystery." This was the most important event in the Playhouse year.

PRETENDERS RUN THREE RING CIRCUS

SEVENTEEN, Pretenders' three-act play, which was given in the fall, filled the center ring of the dramatic group's circus this year. This play, a revival, the first given on this stage by the Pretenders, was directed by Miss Myrtle Paetznick, the club's hard-working adviser.

In the big top's other two rings were MR. TOUCHDOWN, on which the members worked with other organizations, and THE LAST CURTAIN, a one-act play set backstage in the Ford Theater on the night of Abraham Lincoln's assassination. This was given in the spring at the play festival at Fredonia State Teacher's College, a two-day event at which J.H.S. was well represented.

On exhibition at the side show was Pretenders' Planet, discovered at their assembly January 9, by a group of Martians.

Between performances in the main tent, some of the members cast and directed four one-act plays, which were given for the show people. Films on drama were shown, and International Theater Month was celebrated. Playhouse members were inducted at the end of the year.

THESPIANS CONCLUDE SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Thespian Troup No. 364, with Miss Myrtle L. Paetznick as adviser, held its meetings this year in the form of pot luck suppers. These suppers were held in the homes of the members.

In November, two new members, Caroline Jones and Andrew Tangalos, were inducted at a joint meeting with the Lakewood troupe.

"The Cornhusk Doll," a short play, was given several times during Christmas for various organizations in the community.

At the beginning of the new year, all work was centered around "Mr. Touchdown, U.S.A." which was presented February 7 in the J.H.S. auditorium. The production was put on by the school's dramatic and debate organizations. Thespians also cooperated with Pretenders in the celebration of International Theatre Month.

A spring induction was held May 13, concluding the year's work with a formal induction of Pretenders' members who earned enough credits to meet the membership requirements. Members of Southwestern (Celoron) branch were guests, as were pupils from various other vicinity schools. The formal induction program featured plays and stunts which climaxed a very successful Thespian year.

The group is looking forward to next year and the National Dramatic Festival to which many will go. The Festival is to be held in Bloomington, Indiana.

"MR. TOUCHDOWN" MADE BIG HIT

Look! They're trying a pass! Who caught it? Wilbur! Run, Kid, run! Not that way! The other way! That's it. Keep running! A touchdown! Good old P. U. wins, 6-3. Yea, Mr. Touchdown!

This exciting football game brought a new field house to Punksatawney University, and changed Wilbur Sylvester Potter III from the dominated son of a rich man to the hero of the year in the J.H.S. Thespians and National Forensic League production.

Robert Rude portrayed Wilbur, with Sue Erickson as Amy, who was always sticking up for Wilbur and boosting his spirits. Later, these two became the king and queen of the dance. Mr. Walter Alexis was Wilbur's father, Wilbur Sylvester Potter II, who donated the field house because P. U. won the game. Mr. Walter Colburn played Coach Pinky Pinkerton, and Mr. Norman Janowsky was Dean Dingle.

Another interesting plot was added when Flora Belle Jensen (Ruth Anderson) thought that Adolph Schmitt (Paul Nelson) was a Red spy.

A pleasing assortment of specialty numbers completed the program. Included among these were:

Mr. Wilson, who gave an inspiring performance in "The Limehouse Blues Ballet"; Marcia Tranquist and her tap numbers; singers Diane Johnson, Wendy Brown, Rose Marie Contiguglia, and Vincent deJoy; "Tenderly" played by Dick Weaver on the trumpet; the song and dance routines of Barb Plummer and Tom Mulleavy; the "Pop Concert" a la pop bottles; and the singing (?) and ballet numbers of Sharyn Erickson.

Also featured were: the football team; the P. U. band; baton twirling by Delores Johnson; the cheer leaders; "Body and Soul", played by Louanne Larson, the accompanist for all the numbers; the Harmoneers, wonderful boys' quartet; and we must not forget the fine chorus, which accompanied many of the numbers. There was also a skit, "Una noche D'Amor" by Rose Marie Contiguglia, Jerry Seely, and Ralph Hallberg.

The performance was under the direction of Miss Paetznick and Mr. Wilson, and was originated, written and planned by them and a committee of students.

As it goes into history, this will long be remembered by the JHS'ers who will be reminded of "They always call him Mr. Touchdown, da da da dum da da da dum . . . "

SPOTLIGHT SHINES ON FOUR HITS

Four very successful plays filled the center ring of the Jamestown High School big top this year. All were under the direction of Miss Myrtle Paetznick.

Seventeen, adapted from Booth Tarkington's novel, was given in November by the Pretenders. Besides baby-talking Lola Pratt, the boys who fell in love with her, and their families, the story involved two dogs. One, Pete, Lola's lap dog, has been known ever since the play as Flopit. The other dog, King, offered a great deal of work to the back stage worker who had to walk him around throughout the play.

Annie, Get Your Gun, the junior class play, had more scene changes and costumes than any other recent production. Some cast members changed their costumes almost every twenty minutes, and wore as many as six different ones ranging from formal gowns to the Oakley family's gunny sacks. Annie brought a real circus to the high school stage in her "Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show."

Down to Earth, the senior class play, was a fantasy about a group of angels and very bewildered mortals. Wouldn't you be bewildered if some one you couldn't see was examining everything in your house, or if your maid, jilted eleven times, fell in love with a little man who wasn't there?

The Tower Room Mystery, presented in April by Playhouse, was a revival of a former J.H.S. hit. The eerie comedy, set in a spider-infested attic room, gave a number of sophomores a chance to display their acting ability.

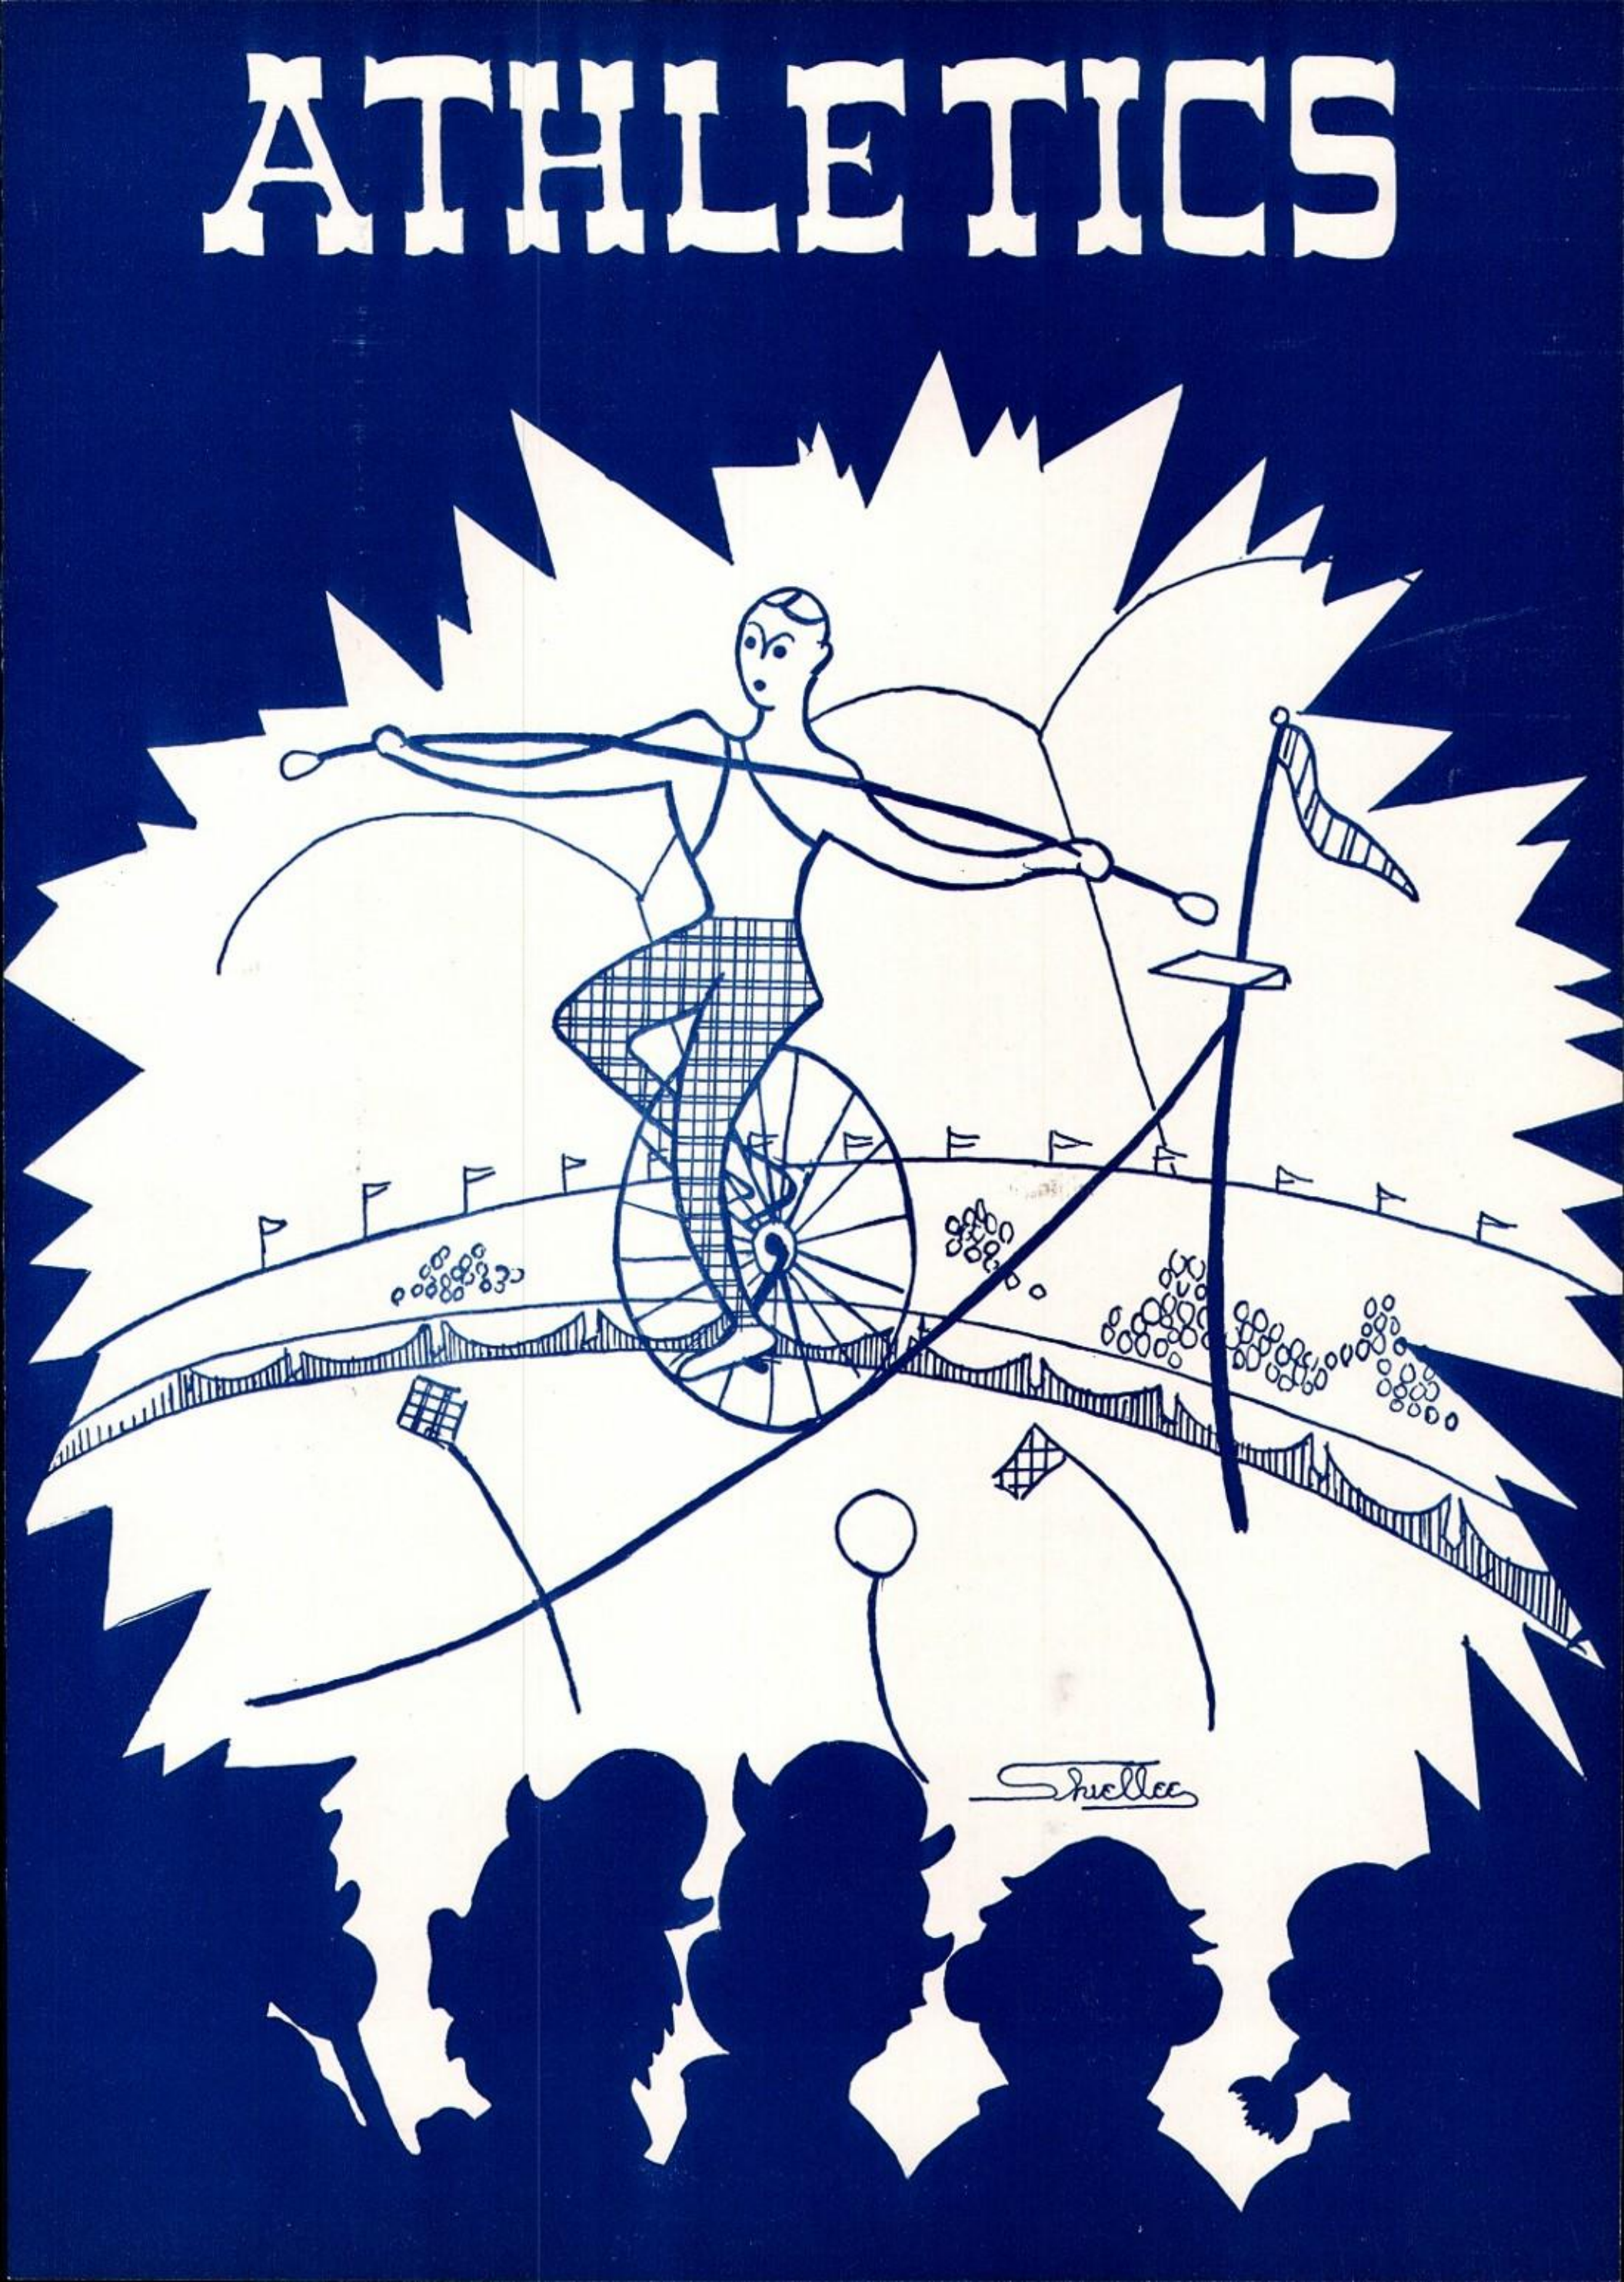
ATHLETICS



BOYS' SPORTS - GIRLS' SPORTS

INTRAMURALS TEACH CLEAN SPORTSMANSHIP

The enthusiasm for boys' intramurals (the program which provides athletic activity for those not on the varsity squads) reached even greater heights this year. Intramural sports do more than just give a place to let off steam; they build character and teach good, clean, American sportsmanship.

The boys in junior home room 268 ran, blocked and passed their way to the Jamestown High School touch-football championship. They reached this pinnacle of success by defeating the senior home room 303.

More boys turned out for intramural basketball this year than in any previous year. Each home room wanted to be the opponent of the faculty at the annual Student-Faculty basketball game sponsored by Key Club. Miss McGuirl's Squirrels finally triumphed over the senior home room, 125. They met the Faculty on Friday, March 27.

Rifle Club under the direction of Mr. Rubens had about fifteen boys regularly punching out the bulls-eyes on Tuesdays and Wednesdays seventh period.

Coach Rubens was a very busy man this year, for, besides his regular gym classes, he instructed the Rifle Club, the Golf team and the bowling squad.

Other sports actively supported were tennis, volley ball, bowling, and table tennis, the latter culminating in a tournament with other area champions.

VARIED SPORTS PROGRAMS ENJOYED BY GIRLS

With Miss Gretchen Sander and Miss Virginia Yerdon as ringmasters, girl performers enjoyed an eventful, fun-packed year. Beginning early in the season, the cheerleaders held a clinic at Frewsburg Central School. A bus left Jamestown at four in the afternoon with cheerleaders from Jefferson, Washington and Lincoln junior high schools along with the Junior Varsity and the Varsity squads from the high school.

November introduced the usual game of cageball, in which all girls took an enthusiastic interest. A Cageball Sports Day was held at Jamestown, taking in a team from each of eight schools. Color teams were organized among the schools. After the cageball season bowed out, basketball entered and was greeted with enthusiasm. A Basketball Invitation Day was held, during which each school brought two teams. Two separate leagues were formed and there was keen competition between them.

In the spring there were various other activities listed on the sports program. Bowling was the highlight for the month of March; April brought volleyball, which was played at Pine Valley by the schools. In May, the favorite sport of softball began. The season finished with a picnic at Allen Park, with Southwestern as host.

RAIDER GRIDMEN COMPLETE SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Coach Walter Colburn completed his third successful year of coaching at Jamestown High School. His 1952-53 record shows a total of 6 wins, 1 loss, and 1 tie. The only loss was suffered at the hands of Kenmore by a 19 to 18 count in a close game.

The Raiders began the season with a 6 to 6 tie against North Tonowanda. After playing the entire game in a quagmire of mud, the tie game was the only concession. Bouncing back, the Raiders took Dunkirk by a 6 to 0 score in a hard fought game.

The following week the Raiders suffered their only defeat of the season at the hands of Kenmore, 19 to 18. The reason for the defeat can be summed up "for want of a placement kicker." Coach Colburn's charges rolled over their next four opponents taking Elmira South 19 to 6, Trott Vocational, 34 to 6, Olean 27 to 19, and LaSalle 19 to 6.

In the last game of the season the Raider gridmen met Warren down at Warren. Those who made the trek to Warren will never forget this hard fought contest in rain and mud. In a nip and tuck game the Raiders emerged with a 13 to 6 victory.

Completing a very successful season, the Red Raiders rang up 142 points to their opponents 68. Lack of a placement kicker somewhat marred the Raiders' hopes of an undefeated season.

The outstanding playing of Rog Bartoldson netted him a berth on the 7th squad of the American All High Team.

RAIDERS RUN HOT AND COLD IN 1952-53

Despite an unimpressive record, Coach Taft's Red Raiders turned in a fine display of basketball this season. Playing tough teams the whole season long, the Taftmen could not take the close ones. A year of hard work and practice came to a fitting climax when Jamestown High School beat Olean in the bi-county playoff. They earned the right to play in the Section VI playoff in Buffalo. Though beaten by Amherst in the playoff game, the fact that they were playing the game was consolation enough for the Raider Squad. Standouts like Denny Johnson, Bennie Mitchell, and Bud Bender provided consistent fine play for local fans.

The mediocre record does not tell the whole story. The Raiders traveled along at a 56 point per game average. The quality of the Raider opponents was of the highest calibre, which has not been the case in recent years.

Denny Johnson, with his one-hand "push" shot, and Bud Bender, making points with his "jump" shot, were stellar performers. Other standouts were Ron Stroth, Fran Remington, Dick Pollino, John Damond, Prentice Marshall, Richard Brown, Richard Kotsi, Ronald Shay and Wayne Johnson.

The Sophomore Reserves turned in an impressive season with 11 wins and 5 losses. Bobby Ecklund and George Parsons were outstanding.

BASEBALL

The 1952 J.H.S. baseball squad ended the regular season of play with an even .500 mark, four wins and four losses. Then they traveled to Olean and in Bradner Stadium met Olean High School for the Bi-County Championship Playoff game. Coach Ayers' team built up an early two run lead only to lose a heart-breaker in the late innings as Olean refused to give in and lived up to the old saying, "the game is not over until the last man is out," as they won in the last inning.

Southwestern and Olean caused Coach Ayers's team the most trouble as they accounted for four of the five losses we suffered. Jamestown lacked the power of last year's team. Russell Diethrick led the team with a .375 mark. He was followed by Daniel McGrath with a .345 mark.

Russell Diethrick also shared the pitching duties with James Schmitt, a junior.

Some of the squad who will be back in uniform this year include Joseph Davis, Roger Bartoldson, David Hannon, James Schmitt, John Damond, Thomas Illig and Robert Jones. These men will be backed up by some of those from last year's sophomore baseball squad who finished the season with a 5 won, 3 lost and 1 tied record.

TAFT'S BOYS PERFORM IN THE OVAL RING

The J.H.S. trackmen pulled through with another good season. On our first outing, we came in second in a triangular meet at Dunkirk. Next, we beat Olean in a dual meet, 57-47. Then we suffered a defeat at the hands of our rivals, Warren. We came in first in the county meet, beating Dunkirk, Fredonia, Southwestern, and Falconer. At Kenmore, J.H.S. placed second in our second triangular meet, and finally, at the Sectionals, we came in seventh in a field of nine schools. The winner of that meet was Niagara Falls.

Some of the important cogs of the team and also lettermen were: Don "Pudge" Alloway, 440; William Avery, high jump; Charles Dahlberg, half-mile; James McCusker, shot put; Larry Michael, mile; Francis Mistretta, hurdles; John Nystrom, mile; Jack Reynolds, hurdles; Neal Richard, pole-vault; Gordy Seaburg, 440; Gerald Seely, 100 and 200; Gust Servis, discus throw; Andy Tangalos, half mile relay and 220; and Doug Zuker, 220.

J-CLUB SPONSORS PROGRAMS AT GAMES

The purpose of the J-Club is to try to get the students to support school functions and to promote the spirit of J.H.S. Again it was run under the supervision of Miss Gretchen Sander and Coach Rolland Taft. Only those students who have earned a varsity letter "J" are eligible to belong.

J-Club began its work this year by sponsoring programs at the football games. The cheerleaders and other J-Club members sold them at the stadium before the beginning of each game. Also a dance was held after one of the basketball games during the Christmas vacation.

This year both the J-Club and the Athletic Organization sponsored the annual Football Banquet, which took place in the high school cafeteria. Mr. Richard Winchester, the main speaker, talked about his wartime experiences in the Air Force. Jackets were given to Coaches Colburn, Ayers, and Rubens, as a token of appreciation from the football squad. The team also presented a football autographed by everyone to Tom Michos, who broke his leg early in the season. Several awards were given to new members of the J-Club.

CHEERLEADERS BOOST MORALE OF TEAMS

An all-senior cheerleading team led the students at the football and basketball games this year. Those chosen for the varsity squad were: Ann Keyes, Janice Leathers, Mary Lou Rigoli, Mary Ann Jensen, Jean Jackson, and Nancy Edson. An additional member of the team was John Lynn who was the performer under the red panther.

Under the direction of Miss Gretchen Sander, a varsity and J.V. team learned teamwork and the ability to lead cheers for the athletic contests. Each Wednesday night after school, the girls practiced their cheers for the games played on the week-ends. Before the season started, the cheerleaders competed for a place on the team during a three week try-out period, and then were picked by Miss Sander, Coach Taft, a member of the faculty, and also by all the girls trying out.

During the fall season, every Friday or Saturday night was taken up in cheering for football games. There were times when the weather turned cold or the ground was muddy, but the team still had a wonderful time. For the rest of the school year there were many basketball games in which our team was cheered on to victory.

The cheerleaders attended two banquets during the year, the football and basketball banquets. They were also elected to the job of decorating the cafeteria for the football banquet.

Another event during the season was the overnight trip to Hornell where the basketball team won by the largest score of the season. The cheerleaders went to every game this year.

They cheered for the last time at the Memorial Auditorium where Jamestown played for the section VI championship. The cheerleading clinic was held at Frewsburg, New York this year, where the girls learned to improve themselves.

There have been pep assemblies to teach the students new cheers and to get the students to support their teams. The cheerleaders have had a good year; whether Jamestown won or lost, they led the cheering section and had a fine time doing it.
